We want to deliver reliably and safely also in the future

At the moment we are all in difficult times. Wir alle befinden uns im Moment in schwierigen Zeiten.

Among the things that are becoming increasingly important, health comes first.

We all have a responsibility to ensure that our fellow human beings, colleagues and customers can protect themselves reliably so as not to fall ill.

The Bovend HygieneStation makes a valuable contribution to this.

The Quality

of our disinfectants will continue to be at a high level. Even when the situation gets tough, our containers will contain what works reliably and safely.

Delivery capability

The market demand is great and in our common interest we will work to ensure that you receive the refill containers you have ordered as quickly as possible.

The price

We all know that demand is a key factor in pricing. As we depend on raw materials that are currently selling rapidly, it is only possible to a limited extent to keep prices from previous days.

Please understand if we have to keep our sales prices dynamic and correct them more often than we would like.

In the end, quality and reliability will pay off for all of us.
